Grand Rapids, MI (November 3, 2008) – Wolverine Building, Inc., known for its success in industrial construction, has been hired as general contractor for a warehouse addition to Thierica's display graphics manufacturing plant on 900 Clancy in Grand Rapids.

Thierica Display Products Corp, a growing business for over 50 years, is a neighborhood company where many of its employees live close enough to walk to work. Its current location at 900 Clancy NE, is vital to the local district and its success. New parking areas will be constructed as well to accommodate the addition of new employees. As a Design/Build project, Wolverine plans to finish construction within 5 months, and operate without disturbing any existing operations.

According to project manager, Chris Nye, "Wolverine Building group has had an excellent partnership with the Thierica group of companies for the past several years, and it's refreshing to participate in their continued growth yet again, especially in the current economic conditions. I look forward to the completion of another successful facility expansion."
