

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Wolverine Unites Behind One Name

August, 2010 (Grand Rapids, MI) – To celebrate the synergy created by our four divisions, Wolverine is incorporating our logos and names into one unified Wolverine Building Group. Combining divisions is part of Wolverine's long-term strategy to advance our presence as a multi-faceted company specializing in multiple markets.

Since its founding in 1939, Wolverine has evolved into one of the region's most trusted, stable, and respected building and construction management firms. Success and expansion has led Wolverine to develop into a broad organization that features four distinct specialty divisions—Wolverine Building, Wolverine Construction Management, Fryling Construction, and Wolverine North America.

Though our divisions have strong reputations in the markets they serve, Wolverine believes we will have a stronger presence as one cohesive organization, the Wolverine Building Group. Uniting all of our employees and divisions under one name and logo will help to maintain our reputation and unite the company internally.

Wolverine Building Group will continue to offer the service, quality workmanship, and specialized expertise that has made all of our divisions trusted and successful in regional, state-wide, and national markets.

Wolverine Building Group is a full service Construction Management, Design/Build and General Contracting firm listed in ENR's 400 Top Contractors in the nation.
